March 14: 40 Years of Title IX and Girls' Athletics

Join us for a panel discussion: "Title IX: 40 Years—Its Impact and Its Future." This program is being held in memory of our late member, Mary Jo Arndt, who played an instrumental role in getting the legislation passed.

The panelists are: Karen Judge (retired teacher and current coach at Glenbard West), a former student athlete Kristi Moore Posegay, a current student Kirsten Ward, and a parent Sally Goggin.

Also - Pat Porep and Marge Ostendorf will have Carsons Community Days booklets available at the March meeting. Buy them for $5 each and use the coupons for great savings at Carsons stores on April 27 and 28.

Dear Dare to Dream 2012 Volunteers,

Thank you, thank you! We are most grateful for your help at Dare to Dream 2012. It could not have happened without you – without your interest, your presence, your time, your enthusiasm, your collaboration and your willingness to give those gifts to the girls and mothers who attended the conference. Your support of the project is very much appreciated.

It is with a great sense of commitment that our four area branches – Elmhurst, Lombard, Wheaton-Glen Ellyn and Downers Grove – have worked together for the past four years to create and present Atrévete a Soñar ¡Educate! - Dare to Dream: Get Educated!

Both the AAUW Mission, to advance equity for women and girls, and the AAUW Value Promise, to be a community that breaks through educational and economic barriers so all women have a fair chance, are strongly promoted and advanced by this conference. We can all be very proud of that.

Dare to Dream is making a difference and changing the lives of the girls and mothers who attend by proposing new perceptions and possibilities and by suggesting new choices. We dare them to dream and then give them role models, information and encouragement to help them envision making their dream a reality. There is nothing more important than working to shape tomorrow.

In the name of the entire Steering Committee, we thank you for your help.

Mary Ann Dion, Suzanne Elger, and Kathy Willis

Books and a Movie

Heidi Koberstine mentioned a movie and a book at the February lunch during her presentation on Care.

A Powerful Noise (film): Hanh in Vietnam, Nada from the Bosnian war, and Madame Urbain in Mali - the women are rising up to claim a voice in their societies. Includes a panel discussion moderated by Ann Curry.

Sideways on a Scooter: Life and Love in India by Miranda Kennedy

Another movie & book that I know about:

Half the Sky: Turning Oppression into Opportunity for Women Worldwide, by Nicholas D. Kristof & Sheryl WuDunn. (This is also a DVD.)
